To Our Customers and Friends.

In presenting our 1934 Catalogue, we sincerely thank our patrons and friends for their generous support during the past season, their continued confidence in us, their kind letters and beautiful photographs, all of which we greatly value and appreciate.

We have much pleasure in stating that we have never before had such a large number of novelties to offer in all classes of this most popular flower, imported from all parts of the world including America, Great Britain, Holland, Germany, and Australia. We have added two new types to our collection, the "Star" and "Orchid-flowered" varieties, both belonging to the single class, light and graceful with slender, stiff stems; delightful for table and indoor decoration.

Our stocks of tubers for 1934 we offer with every confidence. We have been most successful in raising thousands of pot tubers, and field tubers, and have grand clumps of 1933-1934 importations. We import heavily every year to keep our stocks up to the highest standard of quality. Our German importations proved very satisfactory this season, comparing most favourably with the biggest Americans.

Our collection includes the best modern varieties (all stiff-stemmed) in gigantic decoratives, delicately petalled cactus, dainty miniature decorative, miniature pæony-flowered, and graceful pompon types, also the showy single-flowered "Coltness Gem" variety, which is a brilliant scarlet in colour, and excellent for bedding purposes, as well as various colours in Coltness Gem types. We thus cater for all tastes.

Most of the older standard varieties which we consider indispensable to any collection of dahlias will be found in our list.

Without exception the Dahlia is one of the most easily-grown of all garden flowers, and possibly gives a bigger return for the time, labour, and cost expended on its culture than any other plant in cultivation. By planting tubers early and growing late-rooted cuttings, we have dahlias in bloom seven to eight months in the year.

ORDER EARLY.

Stocks of some varieties are limited, therefore, to avoid disappointment, please place orders early, for they will be executed strictly in rotation.

TUBERS.

All orders for tubers will be supplied from divisions of field-grown tubers or pot roots. We do not sell from clumps of tubers which have bloomed all the season: these we burn and return the ash to the soil, which helps to supply the potash so necessary to successful dahlia culture — a hint which our customers could follow with benefit.

OUR GUARANTEE.

We endeavour to send out all varieties true to name; however, should mistakes occur we will gladly rectify these on receipt of a bloom of miss-named variety, either in Green Plants, the same season, or in Tubers the next. Our aim is to give every satisfaction.

All tubers are sprouted before despatch in order to reduce the number of failures to a minimum. We pack the tubers so that they travel perfectly by Agricultural Post.

Customers are warned to look out for cut worms destroying the shoots just under the soil and thereby rendering the tubers blind.

Terms :

Any complaints or claims in regard to the quality of goods must be made immediately on receipt of same, or such complaints or claims cannot be entertained. As we cannot be held responsible for weather conditions, we therefore can give no warranty, implied or expressed, and will not be held responsible in any way for planting and forcing of bulbs, or roots supplied, or failures owing to conditions beyond our control.

A discount of 5 per cent. is allowed for settlement within 30 days of date of invoice, after which, accounts will be rendered strictly nett.

Orders from new or unknown clients must be accompanied by a Bank or other suitable reference, otherwise cash with order, or C.O.D.

Tubers will be fit for delivery as soon as sprouted, during September and October. Plants or rooted cuttings will be ready from November 15th onwards. Dry pot tubers are available from early August for the benefit of customers wishing to plant earlier.

Packing and Postage at Cost.

TUBERS: 2 dozen, 1/6; 1 dozen, 1/0; ½-dozen, 9d.

Successful Dahlia Culture.

The dahlia is a most accomodating subject, thriving on any soil, provided it has been deeply dug, heavily manured, and well-drained.

SOIL TREATMENT AND TIME OF WORKING:—

Heavy and Medium Soils.—As a general rule, heavy and medium soils are best dug over during late autumn or early winter. Dig about two spits deep and be careful never to work soil when in a wet condition. Allow to lie fallow during winter so that the open and rough surfaces can be acted upon by the elements. Dig heavy soils with narrow spits, which keeps them more open.

Light Sandy Soils.—Contrary to the advice given for the working of medium and heavy soils, light soils are best prepared during early spring. The deeper they can be dug, naturally the long will they retain moisture.

It is best to allow a green crop of some kind, such as oats or rye, sown in autumn, or even weeds, to remain on the ground during winter. This will prevent the soil from being washed or blown away, as is often the case during heavy rain and wind storms. The green crop may be dug in two weeks before planting. It will add organic matter and supply the humus which is so necessary for binding light soils. If soil is poor, a dressing of stable or fowl manure may be spread to cover the weeds or rye crop.

Drainage.—Thorough drainage is one of the primary factors in growing dahlias successfully. Sandy soils are well taken care of in this respect, but heavy, clayey soils should have a quantity of coarse coal ashes dug into and mixed with the subsoil. Manure, straw or any stable litter thoroughly incorporated with the top soil, and a good dressing of coarse sand may also be added to clayey soils.

Liming.—Dahlias will thrive in a fairly acid soil. Lime should only be used every three years; it is seldom that soils have an insufficient quantity of lime for growing dahlias successfully. It is essential for new soils dug for the first time, or for soils rich in organic matter, but it is not to be recommended for soils in a high state of fertility or cultivation. Two pounds of agricultural lime to every 50 square yards is about correct.

Spacing and Manuring.—Holes into which to plant the dahlias may be dug during early spring, spacing them $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 ft. apart for tall growers; $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 ft. for medium growers; 2 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ ft. for the Mignon and Pompom varieties. Holes should be 2 ft. deep and 2 ft. wide. Mix a good foot of old manure with the bottom spit of soil and fill in with soil which has been thoroughly mixed with the following fertiliser:—

10 lbs. coarse bone meal.

1 lb. Muriate or Sulphate of Potash; never both: this is sufficient for ten dahlia holes.

Nitrate of Soda.—As dahlias do not require as much nitrogen as other crops, it is not advisable to give them Nitrate of Soda except in the case of individual plants where poor growth with pale foliage is noticed, when a weak solution may be given. This fertiliser if used to any extent is responsible for weak, forced growths, poor blooms and limp stems with plenty of foliage.

SITUATION:—The ideal situation for the dahlia is an open sunny one sheltered from wind, enjoying full morning sun, shaded from noon to 3 o'clock, and again afternoon sun until sunset. Never plant near hedges or under or near large trees: the roots of hedges and trees will keep the soil impoverished and too dry for any dahlia to succeed.

The correct situation has more to do with success in dahlia growing than many people realise. If our "ideal" situation cannot be given, rather give full sun, but if possible, shelter from wind.

CULTIVATION:—Constant cultivation cannot be over-rated: it is one of the chief essentials in all gardening operations. It means everything with dahlias, especially during a dry season. No matter how thoroughly your soil has been prepared or how suitable your situation may be, if thorough and systematic cultivation is neglected, the best tubers or plants will prove a failure. Soil around plants should be kept finely pulverised by means of hoeing; never allow to become hard and baked; always hoe after rain as soon as soil is dry enough to work.

In the early part of the growing season up to the time that plants produce buds, soil may be hoed to a depth of 2 to 3 inches, but after this, it should only be stirred to a depth of one inch, as the feeding roots will by this time have spread over a wide area near the surface, and deeper cultivation will injure them to the detriment of plant and blooms.

Hoeing should be done at least once a week: by this means weeds will be held in check as well as a soil mulch produced which will help to conserve moisture, and allow the air to penetrate the soil.

WATERING:—Dahlias are water-lovers and require plenty of water for their successful culture. While plants are small, the soil requires to be kept just moist, but as they grow they will need more and more water, until plants in full bloom will need a bucketful per day; that is, in dry sandy soils, in heavy soils, two to three waterings per week will be sufficient. Automatic overhead watering, of course, is ideal, but as few gardens have this facility, foliage should be well hosed at least twice a week, which will help to keep the foliage healthy and clean.

PLANTING TUBERS:—

Plant tubers in the middle of holes, 6 inches deep in light soils, and 4 inches in heavy soils. Place tubers flat on their sides, with the growing eyes pointing upwards. Cover at first with only 2 inches of soil, filling in as the plant grows.

PLANTING GREEN PLANTS:—

After removing moss and paper from plants, plant them with the top of the ball of soil about four to six inches deep. Cover with two inches of soil, and as the plant grows, fill in gradually. Place the ball of soil surrounding roots into water until soaked just before planting, and plant during late afternoon. Water thoroughly and protect for a few days by placing a couple of twigs with leaves on them around the plants.

It is advisable to place a paper or cardboard collar around the stem, extending from half an inch below the soil to one inch above, to protect plants from damage by cutworms.

DISBUDDING:—For cut flower, disbudding is absolutely necessary, in order to attain the desired long stem and large bloom. In fact, all plants are the better for disbudding as it lengthens the blooming period of the plant. As with the sweet pea, the more the blooms are cut the more will the plants produce. Remove all buds as soon as they can be handled, leaving only the large terminal bud, and allow an 18 inch stem at least. Never allow blooms to fade on plants.

STAKING:—All plants should be staked, for they are very brittle, breaking easily under the least provocation. It is a good plan to plant the stakes at the same time that tubers or plants are planted, growths can then be tied to them as they grow. Stakes should be planted first, driven well into the soil, and crowns of tubers placed about 2 ins. from stakes.

TREATMENT OF CUT BLOOM:—Dahlia blooms can be made to last from four to six days when cut, provided they are treated properly. The blooms are best cut during the late afternoon, the ends of the stems plunged into a pot or jug containing about an inch of boiling water. Leave in for one or two minutes, after which place into a bucket filled with cold water and left outside overnight. They may then be arranged in vases the following morning. A few crystals of washing soda added to the water will help to make the blooms last, or a teaspoon of powdered alum added to a gallon of water. A tabloid of Asperin will be found to revive drooping blooms wonderfully.

FEEDING:—We have found the following top-dressing of manures of the greatest assistance in keeping plants healthy and blooms large. Apply early in February: Spread evenly to cover the surface of the soil around plants, about six inches from the stalks and rake in; the quantities given below are sufficient for feeding a dozen plants:—

1½ lbs. of Bone Flour.

5 lbs. finely powdered Sheep or Cow Manure.

6 lbs. Unleached Wood Ashes (ash which has not been exposed to moisture).

or ½ lb. Muriate or Sulphate of Potash (not both).

DIGGING AND STORING TUBERS:—After frosts have blackened plants, or they have died down naturally, cut off stalks to about 12 inches from the ground. After a week carefully lift by means of a garden fork, tie labels securely to tubers, allow them to thoroughly dry in the sun, and then store in a frost-proof shed, placing on beds of dry sand. In frost-free areas they may be left outside with safety, under a pergola, or tree, or any convenient place.

In areas subjected to heavy frosts it is advisable to leave tubers in the ground during winter and cover with about a foot of dry grass or any litter. Lift when all risk of frost is past. During early spring divide and replant immediately: this method reduces losses to a minimum.

DIVIDING CLUMPS:—Place clumps in a warm sunny place during early spring, and cover with soil. Keep watered, and as soon as eyes appear, carefully divide, allowing an eye or shoot to a tuber. These eyes will be noticed around the stem or crown of the clump. A tuber without a piece of crown on which the eyes appear is useless. Never allow more than one tuber to an eye — usually the smaller the tuber, the better the plant. Large clumps should never be planted entire. Cut off the base of tuber before planting. Cover tubers with wet soil, after being cut, until planted.

PESTS:—Dahlias must be kept growing to produce the best results. Should you notice your plants apparently standing still or making no new growth, carefully examine the leaves on the underside, and you will most likely find that the plant has been attacked by Red Spider.

Red Spider is a small red insect which covers the under-surface of the leaves with a dusty web, which slightly resembles spider-web. If there are violet plants nearby, you will soon find where the pest comes from, as it is almost impossible to keep Red Spider off violets during dry weather. This pest attacks the underside of the leaves causing them to become yellow and dry. Spray the underside of leaves with Nicotine Extract as directed on tins.

Thrip is a little pest which attacks the fibres of the newly-formed leaves, causing them to grow malformed and curled, and retarding the growth of the plants, especially while they are still small. Thrip is a very small grey or brown insect and is rather difficult to detect, but many plants are stunted and prove a failure because of the ravages of a few of this pest. Spray as for Red Spider.

Cutworms. This annoying pest is easily controlled by placing about a teaspoonful of poisoned bran bait around the plant (but not touching it) the evening after planting; remove next morning in case birds or poultry eat it.

- 2 Tablespoonsful brown sugar (dissolved);
- 1 Level teaspoonful Paris green;
- Juice of an orange or equivalent in water;
- 1 Quart bran or as much as will make a fairly dry mash.

Red Ants. This pest has made its appearance in several districts in the Cape Province. It has been attacking delphiniums, antirrhinums, and dahlias, especially the green plants, as they appear to be more succulent than those grown earlier in the season from tubers.

The only real cure is to find the nest, and when found, to pour over the area where the nest exists half a pound of carbon bisulphide: this is a very heavy gas and should immediately be covered over with sacking and soil on top. As this gas is highly inflammable, it should never be exposed to a naked flame. Smoking strictly taboo. It may be obtained from any chemist, and is quite inexpensive. The first symptom of a plant attacked by red ants is that the tips of the large leaves curl upwards. Any suspected plants should have the soil around the stem removed; if ants are present they will be found about two inches below the soil, barking the stem. Remove as many ants as possible with soil, place in tin, and pour on boiling water.

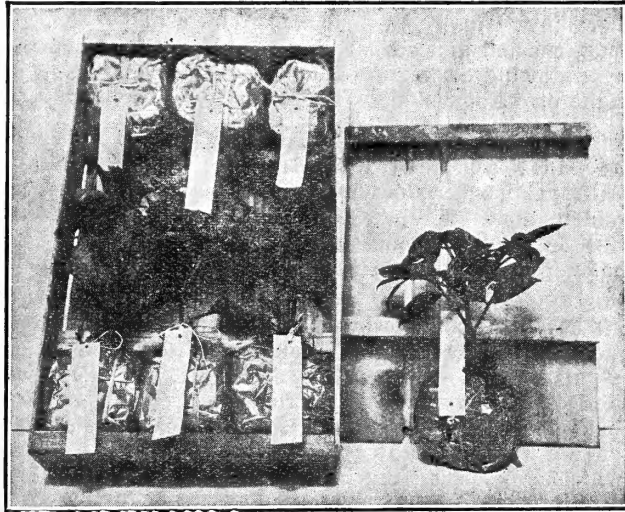

Fresh tobacco waste placed around the stems will act as a repellant for a while until the tobacco rots, when it becomes a very good fertiliser.

Postage and Packing at cost = 1/6 for six plants, 1/2 for four plants, and 10d. for two plants.

We have specialised in green plants for many years and know how to raise them, how to grow them, and how to pack them successfully in specially designed boxes, which are made on our premises, to travel in safety to all parts of the Union and Southern Rhodesia. We guarantee our plants to be strong, healthy and well-rooted.

Latest and Recent Decorative, Hybrid-Decorative; Cactus and Hybrid-Cactus Dahlias.

Owing to the stock of some of the newest varieties being limited we are obliged to book orders for these SUBJECT TO BEING UNSOLD.

D.—Decorative.

H.D.—Hybrid-Decorative.

C.—Cactus.

H.C.—Hybrid-Cactus.

Amelia Earhart—H.D., according to the American catalogues this glowing apricot-buff giant proved to be the champion exhibition flower of the year. It certainly is outstanding in every way; blooms are deep and wide of most artistic form, held quite erectly on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 feet. Green plants only. £1 1s.

Arrow—C., a medium-large English cactus of 1933 introduction composed of perfectly straight, narrow petals like arrows of exceptional length. Blooms are full to the centre; colour crimson at base tinged with rosy-purple towards the tips of petals. Stems have a slight kink. Height 4 to 5 feet. 5/0

Betty Colter—H.D., another 1931 American Roll of Honour dahlia, something new and distinctive, colour light salmon red shading to old rose at base of petals; the massive blooms are held erectly on splendid stems; an outstanding dahlia. Height 4 to 5 ft. 5/0

Black Beauty—D., this 1933 English decorative is a very dark maroon in colour, almost black. Well named. The medium-broad and slightly twisted petals form a wide rather flat bloom of large size, held straight up on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 feet. 7/6

Buckeye Bride—D., this glorious bronzy-pink American decorative is one of the best in this colouring. The large blooms are held upright on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 feet. 3/6

Capt. H. Light—D., this beautiful Australian decorative is of latest introduction, largest size, and a rich primrose in colour. The numerous curled petals form a shaggy bloom of great beauty, carried quite erectly on long stems. Height 5 feet. 5/0

Cäsar—H.D., a grand 1933 hybrid decorative imported from Germany; equally the monster Americans in size. The long, twisted and curled petals form a deep full bloom of a glowing copper shaded terra-cotta colour, held upright on strong stems. Height 5 feet. Green plants only. 10/6

Caprice—H.D., American 1931 Roll of Honour dahlia of Californian introduction; colour, an exquisite soft golden yellow shading to salmon-pink, deepening towards tips of petals; blooms large and of exceptional depth held erectly on grand stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. 5/0

Chas. G. Reed—D., this burgundy-red decorative is one of the most spectacular of our recent American importations. Petals are wide at the base and taper to a point with a decided twist and curl, forming a monster bloom, held gracefully erect on strong stems — petals also have a reflex of lighter red, giving the bloom a sparkle which is often lacking in these darker shades. Height 4 to 5 ft. 7/6

Champoeg—D., a new American decorative of great size and exceeding beauty. The deep full blooms are a waxy-yellow at centre shading to a brilliant salmon towards end of petals, "forming a sunburst" as described by the raisers. Stems stiff as a rod. Height 4 to 5 ft. 7/6

Colonial Dame—H.C., a 1932 Roll of Honour dahlia. The long petals have a slight curl forming a large bloom of a clear lavender colour, shading almost to a blue in the sunlight. An exceptional and beautiful bloom held upright on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 ft.

Green plants only. 10/6

D. B. Crane—D., this giant decorative is outstanding amongst the 1933 English introductions. The great blooms are composed of broad petals which have a decided twist and taper to a point forming a bloom of exceptional depth as well as width. Colour dark scarlet tinged with orange. The brilliant blooms are held erectly on long stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. 15/0

D. Jubilyne—a large decorative of latest introduction of unusual colouring, being a deep old-rose with a golden sheen. Stems stiff and perfect. Height 4 to 5 feet. 5/0

Eagle Rock Prince—H.D., a 1932 Roll of Honour dahlia and one difficult to describe. The introducers call it a "wide petalled combination of autumn colours." The face of petals are a yellow-ochre with the backs a light jasper-red, the whole effect being a coppery-yellow sheen. The large blooms are held upright on good stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only. £1 1s

Eagle Rock Fantasy—H.D., a huge American of a light mallow-pink colouring. The long, broad petals taper to a point and are artistically notched, forming a graceful bloom of perfect form, carried erectly on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only. 10/6

Eagle Rock Superba—D., one of the latest American giants of an attractive light amaranth-pink colouring. The beautiful blooms are held erectly on strong stems. Height 5 ft. Green plants only. 15/0

Edward Rindfleisch—D., one of the best of our latest American importations. The brilliant large scarlet blooms are held upright on strong stems well above the foliage. A red that does not burn under the hottest sun. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only. 10/6

Effective—H.C., a strikingly beautiful monster 1933 English cactus, equalling the giant decoratives in size. The numerous petals are of exceptional length, broad at the base and tapering to a point, incurving slightly. Colour a brilliant orange burnished and flushed with reddish tints; stems of the longest. Height 5 to 6 ft. 7/6

El Oro—H.D., a new American pure gold decorative of large size. The numerous curled petals form a glowing bloom carried erectly on long stems. Outstanding and distinct. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only. 7/6

Entrup's Monarch—D., this monster decorative is one of the latest introductions by the world-famed Entrup raisers. The great, deep, full blooms are held quite erectly on long, strong stems. Colour a rich carmine-red. Height 4 to 5 feet. 5/0

Entrup's Riese—H.D., a deep bronzy-copper giant of latest German introduction. The long, medium-wide petals twist and curl, forming a full, deep bloom of intense beauty, held erectly on strong stems. Strong grower. Height 5 ft. Green plants only. 7/6

Entrup's Schönheit—D., a truly handsome German decorative introduced by the famous Entrup raisers. Petals are wide at the base, tapering to a point, forming a deep bloom of a rich velvety dark-red colouring, shading to black at the full centres. A fine addition to the dark red class. Height 5 feet. Green plants only. 7/6

Entrup's Sultan—D., another very large German introduction, sister to "Entrup's Monarch". One of the largest and most beautiful dahlias; colour a dark carmine-red. The strong stems hold the great blooms upright. Height 4 to 5 ft. 7/6

Entrup's Triumph—D., a grand new German introduction of a soft mauve-pink colouring. Petals are wide at the base tapering to a point with a twist and curl, forming a large bloom held upright on strong stems. Height 5 feet. Green plants only. 5/0

English Commodore—D., this spectacular ruby-crimson decorative is one of the most beautiful of the 1933 English introductions. The deep, full, rich blooms are held so erectly on their strong stems as to face squarely upwards. Height 4 to 5 feet. Green plants only. 10/6

Florence Louise—H.C., one of the largest Hybrid-Cactus dahlias yet introduced hailing from America. Colour, a pale shade of yellow; petals slightly serrated which adds to the size of the bloom. Stems strong, holding the graceful bloom erectly. Height 4 ft.

Green plants only 15/0

Francesca—D., a large American decorative of unusual colouring and great beauty; the numerous, wide, curled petals form a deep, full bloom of a rose flushed violet and gold colouring held erectly on strong stems. Height 5 ft. 5/0

Frau Laura Schoelvinck—D., a large German of latest introduction and rare colouring; petals are wide and fluted, forming a wide full bloom, held erectly on a strong stem of a rose lilac, shaded gold colouring. Strong grower and free bloomer. Height 5 to 6 ft.

Green plants only 10/6

Friedrick Lux—D., another strikingly beautiful coppery giant of latest German introduction; the exceptionally wide petals run to a point and are artistically curled and twisted forming a handsome bloom held squarely upright on strong stems; the main colour is copper shaded mahogany, flushed gold at the centre. Height 5 ft.

Green plants only 10/6

Frigate—C., an exquisitely beautiful 1933 English Cactus; the narrow petals are long and incurving, forming a dainty bloom of salmon pink colouring tinted with rose and shading to yellow at the base of petals — held erectly on long slender stems. Height 4 to 5 ft.

Jerome Kern—H.D., another glorious 1932 Roll of Honour dahlia; the petals are exceptionally long with a twist and curl, forming a great shaggy bloom held upright on strong stems; colour shrimp pink with tints of gold and bronze, the reverse of petals being a bright old rose. Height 5 ft. Green plants only 15/0

Jean Trimbee—H.D., a grand Canadian introduction of a rich dark violet colouring, one of the largest and most spectacular of our latest importations; the numerous petals are curled and twisted forming a wide and exceptionally deep bloom, held to face upwards on strong stems. Height. 4 to 5 ft. 10/6

Jim Moore—D., a new outstanding American decorative of exceptional beauty; colour clear primrose gold shaded and suffused salmon; the large blooms are both deep and wide and are carried quite erectly on long, perfect stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 7/6

Jullinar—D.A., a beautiful American introduction of exquisite pastel colouring, being a lavender shaded pink; the massive blooms are held erectly on hard stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 5/0

Jumbo—D., a grand new decorative of large size and rich crimson colouring; the deep blooms composed of wide pointed petals are held upright on good stems and shaded to black at the centres. Height 4 to 5 ft. 5/0

Julius von Buldern—H.D., an outstanding German introduction of brilliant colouring; the long petals are twisted with a rich orange on the face and gold on the reflex, forming a glowing, deep, full, cup-shaped bloom held upright on perfect stems. A seedling of the world famous Jersey's Beacon. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 7/6

La Fiesta—H.D., another American monster of latest introduction, resembling a large chrysanthemum in form; colour butter yellow with red pencilling; stems are strong, holding the large blooms quite upright. Height 5 ft. Green plants only 10/6

Lady Moyra Ponsonby—H.D., a new glowing pure yellow American introduction of great beauty; the large blooms are held upright on long stems; a grand addition to the yellow class. Height 5 ft. Green plants only 10/6

Laurentic—H.D., one of the largest of the 1933 English giants, similar in form and colour to the famous beauties "Grace Curling" and "Mrs. F. V. Russell." Laurentic being longer in the petal, more irregular in shape and much larger in size; colour a delicate mauve pink, flushed white at the centre; stems long, strong and upright. Height 4 to 5 ft. 10/6

Ludowika Entrup—D., a new German decorative of largest size; colour white, slightly suffused bluish mauve, an exquisitely beautiful bloom carried high up on erect stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 1/6

Mastodon—H.D., This glowing hybrid-decorative of latest English introduction is composed of numerous curled and twisted petals, forming a very large, deep and full bloom of shaggy brilliance, held erectly on strong stems; colour rich apricot. Height 3 to 4 ft. 10/6

Margaret F. Wylie—H.D., another beautiful American Roll of Honour dahlia — large and more inclined to ge paeony-like; colour rose-red with a reverse of rose-pink and silver; stems erect; blooms of loose formation. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 5/0

Mary Ellen—D., a large American decorative of a violet rose colouring with considerably more pink in it than lavender; stems are strong and stiff, holding the blooms erectly; petals are wide at the base tapering to a point forming a wide bloom full to the centre. Height 5 ft. Green plants only 5/0

Ministerium—D., a magnificent new German introduction of a golden yellow shaded apricot colouring; the wide curled petals form a deep bloom of glowing beauty, held upright on good stems. Height 5 ft. Green plants only 1/6

Miss Belgium—C., a new Dutch variety of a glowing orange colouring; the medium blooms are held upright on long, wiry stems; excellent for basket and boquet work. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 2/6

Monmouth General—H.D., a new American of exceptional depth and striking beauty; colour is a brilliant henna, the long wavy petals darkening to a rich terra cotta at the centre; the handsome blooms are held quite upright on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. Green plants only 15/0

Mrs. George Chibnell—D., a bright citron yellow giant of reflexed and informal shape, of 1933 English introduction; the truly great blooms are held erectly on rod-like stems, carried well above the foliage and requiring little disbudding. Height 4 to 5 ft. 7/6

Murphy's Masterpiece—D. This monster American decorative may be called an improved Dwight W. Morrow, a little lighter in colour, being a dark red shaded garnet; the numerous petals are wide, forming a deep, full bloom held erectly on strong stems; one of the most outstanding of our latest American importations. Height 5 ft. Green plants only £1 1 0

Pauline James—C., one of the largest 1933 English Cactus introductions; petals are moderately narrow and evenly incurved; colour must be seen to be appreciated, being a reddish terra-cotta shading to lighter and deeper tones; strong stems holding the glorious bloom erectly. Height 4 to 5 ft. 7/6

Pastel Glow—H.D., a 1932 Roll of Honour dahlia, one of the most outstanding of our latest American importations, where it is called the "transparent Dahlia"; the face of the wide-pointed petals being white with mallow purple reverse which shows through, giving an orchid-violet glow — forming an exquisitely beautiful bloom of largest size and carried erectly on strong stems. Height 4 to 5 ft. £1 1 0

Prince of Persia—D. This immense crimson American decorative will appeal to all who like size and richness of colour combined; the deep, full blooms are held erectly on strong stems; a glowing crimson velvety flower of intense beauty. Height 5 to 6 ft. 5/0

Purple Emperor—D., a 1933 English purple giant of intense beauty; the massive deep, rather than wide blooms are composed of petals broad at the base and bluntly pointed. The rich glowing purple blooms are held erectly on strong stems. Height 3 to 4 ft. 10/6

IRIS OCHROLEUCA.

This iris makes a handsome plant of 3 ft. in height, with 5 ft. spikes. The leaves are long, stiff, and of a dark green colour. The fine blooms resemble large, cream, shaded yellow, Spanish Iris blooms, and are borne in profusion on both sides of the stems. Thrives in any soil. A handsome border plant. Plants 2/6 each; 15/0 per dozen.

IRIS MONNIERI.

This iris is like I. Ochroleuca in growth, but its blooms are a rich golden yellow, and rather broader petalled. Very fine. Plants 2/6 each; 15/0 per dozen.

Herbaceous and Other Hardy Plants.

Anemone Japonica.

Whirlwind—For a wealth of bloom during autumn, this Anemone stands supreme. It thrives best in partial shade sheltered from wind. We have fine plants of this pure white single variety, which reaches a height of about 4 ft. Plants from June to August.

Alstromeria.

This glorious perennial should be in every garden. It is of simple culture, thriving equally well in full sunlight or partial shade. Trusses of blooms, however, grow taller in the latter situation. Requires a deeply-trenched, well-manured soil. Plant the fleshy roots 8 inches deep.

—Aurantiaca.—A large, gorgeous, golden variety; most free-blooming. Height 3 ft. 5/0 per dozen.

—splendens. — Tall-growing variety; large, brilliant, orange, blotched red; extra fine. Height 3 to 4 ft. 5/0 per dozen.

Helenium Autumnale.

A beautiful Helenium, flowering during late autumn. The great trusses of bloom are composed of numerous golden-yellow flowers, with dark centres. Height 3 to 4 ft. 2/0 per dozen.

Tuberoses.

These delightful, fragrant bulbs are most effective when planted in the herbaceous border amongst other bulbs of brilliant colourings; or planted in a bed by themselves, bordered by green grass, they are lovely. Grown in tubs they thrive excellently — therefore no one need be debarred from enjoying their rich fragrance or exquisite beauty. The blooms last for weeks on the plants. Plant as soon as all risk of frost is past.

Bulbs from August to October.

Excelsior Pearl.—Large, double-flowered variety. The beautiful wax-like blooms are carried on graceful stems, 2½ ft. long. 2/6 dozen; 15/0 per 100.

Shasta Daisy Imperial.

The largest of all Shastas, blooms measuring up to seven inches across. Excellent for borders or massed in beds. Height 3 ft. 2/0 per dozen.

Physostegia.

This grand and free-flowering perennial thrives well in all areas. The tubular blooms borne on long-branched trusses resemble heather in form, and equals it for lasting qualities. One of the best cut flowers. Height 2 to 3 ft.

—Virginica rosea.—A grand mauvy-pink variety. 3d. each; 2/0 per dozen.

Violets

This fragrant and popular subject should find a place in every garden, big or small. It is ideal for bordering paths or beds, and excellent for growing on shaded banks.

Prince of Wales—Large-flowered, dark purple variety, 1/0 per dozen, 6/0 per 100.

Gladiolus.

Named varieties 2/6 per dozen; 15/0 per 100.

Mixed unnamed varieties 2/0 per dozen; 12/0 per 100.

Gladioli are easily grown and will succeed in almost any soil. The corms or bulbs should be planted six inches deep, either in lines or groups twelve inches apart. If a massed effect is required closer planting is advisable. They make a glorious display, and one can have them in bloom practically throughout the whole year in our country by planting acclimatised corms during August, September and October. They bloom within three months of planting. Imported corms are available during December, January and February.

LARGE FLOWERED VARIETIES.

Flaming Sword—scarlet-red; tall.

Halley — salmon-pink, blotched yellow with carmine markings.

Prince of Wales—bright salmon-pink; very fine

Marechal Petain—salmon orange-red, white blotch.

Mrs. Frank Pendleton—pink, crimson scarlet blotches at throat.

White Giant—pure white; extra fine.

NEW HYBRIDS

Prices 2/6, 3/6, 5/0, 1/6, according to size of plant.

Plants supplied in 5 inch pots or larger tins.

Plants in barrels 10/6, 15/0, £1 1 0.

These grand subjects are becoming increasingly popular in South Africa. Their culture is of the easiest; their wonderful lasting qualities as a cut flower and on the bush, as well as their great beauty, capture and hold the regard of all flower lovers.

They are most decorative grown in pots, tubs, barrels or even tins (painted green or terra-cotta) placed on stoeps or under trees, while grown massed in the garden, preferably in partial shade, in a damp situation, they are unsurpassed for producing magnificent colour effects. The new hybrids bear large trusses of bloom on long stems, the individual pips varying in size and shape according to the variety. Mad. Mouillere having pips measuring 3 inches across, they range in colour from the palest of pastel pinks to rich carmine-reds, also many striking shades of blue, lilac and mauve, as well as the purest of whites. It is not always possible to quite guarantee the colours as soil conditions sometimes cause variations—but these very variable traits make their culture all the more interesting and fascinating, the many shades blending most artistically and producing a truly wonderful effect. Try it! and for those who want something new and beautiful in their gardens we strongly recommend these new Hydrangea Hybrids.

Hydrangea plants respond well to a good dressing of coarse bone meal forked into the top soil during winter, and the following potting soil is ideal: two parts finely broken up peat (procurable from most nurserymen) two parts leaf mould, one part good garden loam, half part sand, thoroughly mixed together and to every barrow load add one five inch pot full of coarse bone meal. They are water loving plants and like plenty of drainage — keep moderately moist after potting, giving more and more water as plants grow, requiring daily soakings when in full bloom. It is advisable to give plants two or three dustings of flowers of sulphur when in strong growth before the blooms show colour. This should be done on a warm still morning and will prevent attacks of mildew. When plants have finished flowering cut out all thin shoots leaving only the strongest for next season's flowering — these should be tipped back.

Blue Prince—a strong vigorous grower; medium-size flower trusses; a beautiful deep blue.

Elmar—This variety grows into a rather short bush; bears large trusses of bloom of a brilliant carmine-red colour.

Freja—Dwarf grower; beautiful fimbriated pip; colour red-pink; a beautiful novelty.

F. Mathes—a tall vigorous variety; large pips and trusses; colour exquisite salmon-rose.

Gertrude Glahn—Large pip and truss exceptionally beautiful pink, shading later to a rich lilac-blue.

Goliath—A gorgeous variety well named; pip and truss both large; stems long; a wonderful blue shot mauve colour.

Germaine Mouillere—A magnificent pure white; pip large and fimbriated, truss enormous; foliage glossy; outstanding variety.

Helge—Vigorous grower; long stems; rich dark rose; large truss; one of the most beautiful.

Kreinilde—A glowing salmon rose; large trusses; vigorous grower.

La Lorraine—An exquisite pale rose variety; large trusses.

La Marne—An exquisite variety bearing large trusses composed of large pips of a soft mauve colouring; vigorous grower.

Le Perle—A dainty fine white variety; pips fimbriated; one of the best whites.

Loreley—Dwarf grower bearing large trusses of a brilliant carmine-red colouring; free flowering.

Mad. E. Mouillere—A beautiful fine white with a carmine centre; strong grower; enormous pips and heads, tones to pale blue as bloom ages.

Mad. Riverain—a beautiful light blue; large truss; small pip.

Marechal Foch—A true novelty, rather variable; sometimes rose-pink shading to lovely shades of metallic blue flushed old rose; strong grower.

Otaksa Montrose—A very large rich pink; tall stems; strong grower and free bloomer.

Parzival—A beautiful deep red variety; large truss; pips Primula-like in shape; very free blooming.

Peer Gynt—This red-rose variety is one of the most spectacular; pips and trusses are immense; vigorous habit; free flowering.

Rinegold—A magnificent rich pink; strong grower; large truss; one of the best.

Senator H. David—A lovely pink fine vigorous habit; large pip and truss.

Souv. de Chantard—A brilliant rich pink; strong grower; large trusses.

Yvonne Cayeux—An outstanding variety; large trusses; strong grower; colour dark pink to red.

Bellis Perennis.

Bellis Perennis (English Daisy)—A delightful perennial suitable for bedding or borders; thrives in any situation, best in partial shade; likes plenty of moisture.

—Monstrosa—extra large-flowered variety, mixed pink and white shades Plant Feb. to Aug.

9d. per doz. 4/6 per 100.
